4. Stock Ratios (as at 31.03.2026)

Particulars	Ratio	Comment
Short-term liabilities to total assets	0.22	Short-term liabilities constitute 22% of total assets, indicating moderate dependence on short-term funding. The ratio is within generally acceptable levels but requires continuous monitoring of liquidity position.
Short-term liabilities to long-term assets	0.26	Indicates that a portion of long-term assets is funded through short-term liabilities. The ratio is slightly above the ideal benchmark and may expose the Corporation to maturity mismatch risk; however, Government support provides additional comfort.
Short-term liabilities to total liabilities	0.22	The liability profile remains reasonably balanced, with majority liabilities being long-term in nature.
Long-term assets to total assets	0.84	Long-term assets form a major portion of total assets, which is typical for an NBFC engaged in term lending activities.
Liquid assets to short-term liabilities	0.37	Liquid assets cover only 37% of short-term liabilities, indicating relatively low immediate liquidity coverage. The Corporation may need to rely on regular cash inflows, refinancing arrangements, and Government-backed support for meeting short-term obligations.
